$360 Million Tax Compromise Passes House

Relocation Of 611 To By-Pass, Link Major Communities

Project In 'Long Range' Category

A DRASTIC revamping of U. S. Route 611 between Philadelphia and Scranton which would completely by-pass all major communities was announced yesterday by Arthur Wiesenberger, deputy secretary and chief engineer of the Highway Department, a "long-range project."

Mr. Wiesenberger said plans calling for construction of the road is a "multi-million job which will not be done next year or the year after that." It is not even within the five-year plans of the present highway department administration, he said.

"It is indicative of our new method of planning," the highway secretary said. "We want to get away from this "gap" construction idea which we have found turns out to be costly because of lack of planning."

"Your Stroudsburgs limited-access thru-way will not be adversely affected by our planning for Route 611," he said. "In fact the work now being done on your thru-way project is sound because the changes planned for Route 611 will be integrated right in the thru-way".

Follows New Pattern

"Our planning for Route 611 follows our new pattern of highway development. Briefly every project, large or small, is now planned from the standpoint of the state as a whole and its ability to meet the standards of future worth. Not just a stop-gap effort," Wiesenberger said.

Mr. Wiesenberger emphasized that not only the Route 611 changes, but many highway and bridge jobs of a more immediate nature hinges on what the legislature will do on the program submitted by the State Highway Department.

"My awareness of the needs of the Pocono Mountains region is based not only on first-hand knowledge of the region, but acquaintenship with the people in it and their enterprises which depend so heavily upon the type of program we have submitted. But, the whole picture depends on what the Legislature does to our proposals."

Wiesenberger outlined the Route 611 revamping in this fashion:

Part of Route 611 is to be relocated. Instead of following the Delaware River between Harrow, Bucks County, and Stroudsburg, the road will be extended in almost a straight line between Harrow and Bartonsville. It will run west of Easton, Wilson Borough, Bangor and Pen Argyl.

Bypass All Major Centers

When completed the highway will bypass all major communities, including Doylestown, Easton, Wind Gap and the Stroudsburgs. At the Stroudsburgs the thru-way now under survey and planning will be integrated into the new Route 611 system, Wiesenberger said.

At the northern end there will be a Scranton bypass which will connect with U. S. Route 11. Route 11 now connects Scranton with Binghamton, N.Y. Wiesenberger said the improvements envisage overhaul of Route 11 into a multi-lane highway between Scranton and Binghamton.

He said the Route 611 improvement is essential for three major reasons:

1. To better the interstate traffic program as asked by President Eisenhower, providing for easier access from southern states to Central New York and Northeast New Jersey.

2. To provide a safer, faster highway for persons of the Phil-

Five Dead In KC-97 Crashes

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 21 (AP)—A Boeing KC97 Stratofreighter crashed and burned near the Palm Beach Air Force Base late today and all five crewmen aboard were killed.

Eyewitnesses said the ship burst into flames along the fuselage as it was coming in for a landing.

One witness said the flaming ship struck the ground on the norts side of Belvedere Rd., nosed into an embankment and flipped over on its back to skid across the road and into an adjacent field where it was enveloped in flames.

The air base information office said the ship was on a routine flight when it crashed.

Flood Loss Insurance Too Costly

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—Insurance industry representatives today expressed belief the government would have as much trouble as private companies in attempting to write flood insurance that would be selfsustaining.

The witnesses testified before a Senate banking subcommittee considering bills to establish a federal flood insurance program. They said private companies could not afford to sell flood insurance because they could not spread the risk widely enough to bring premium costs within the reach of prospective buyers.

They said present legislative proposals would encounter the same obstacles unless the government is prepared to subsidize the purchasers.

Both the administration bill introduced by Sen. Bush (R—Conn) and the bill by subcommittee Chairman Lehman (D—NY) contemplate degrees of federal subsidization. The insurance men contended this represented relief rather than insurance.

Undercover Agent Names Red Comrade

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 21 (AP)—A Bucks County steelworker revealed himself as an undercover FBI worker today and identified Dr. Albert Blumberg as a Communist party functionary in 1953.

Blumberg is on trial in U. S. District Court on Smith Act charges. The prosecution accuses him of being a member of the Communist party with the knowledge it advocated the violent overthrow of the government.

Joined in 1946

Harry Walter, 46, of R. D. 1, Kintnersville, testified he joined the party in 1946 and furnished information to the FBI starting in 1952. He said he knew Blumberg as "Doc" and "Paul" and had attended four party meetings at which Blumberg was present.

Walter said he was a member of the "Steel Club" of the Lehigh Valley section of the party. He identified various pieces of Communist propaganda as material used for instruction in party classes.

Under questioning by Special U. S. Atty. David Harris, Walter asserted Blumberg led discussion groups at which party propaganda was studies. Part of his duties as a Communist, Walter said, was to supply information about grievances and working conditions at the Bethlehem Steel Corp. plant where he is employed.

India-Pakistan Forces Clash

BOMBAY, India, Feb. 21 (AP)—Official Indian sources said today Indian and Pakistani forces clashed Sunday in a disputed border area on the west coast near the Arabian Sea. Three Indians were reported wounded.

Benson Under Cross-Fire Of Ridicule

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson underwent a cross-fire of criticism and ridicule today from hostile House Agriculture Committee members.

Flushing an unaccustomed pink on occasion, Benson heard the administration's farm program called late, nebulous and political.

The secretary, already given a rough time by the Senate Agriculture Committee, was summoned before the House group to outline the administration's farm proposals—including flexible price supports and a "soil bank" for taking surplus cropland out of production.

Benson Accused

The House committee last year voted to junk the flexible support system for a return to high rigid price supports. The Senate committee has voted likewise this year.

Chairman Cooley (D-NC) at the outset accused Benson of ignoring the committee in submitting specific proposals, and ordered him to have the program ready in legislative detail "by Monday."

"You've been in office three years and to this day we have never had an official bill," Cooley declared, and in evident sarcasm told Benson to "advise with your attorneys so you won't request authority you already have."

Under Cooley's prodding, Benson acknowledged the soil bank feature of the program is not new, and that the Department of Agriculture had rejected similar proposals contained in two House bills as recently as last July.

Not New

"You admit it's not new with you," Cooley fired back. "Then why do you come so late?"

Benson agreed the soil bank idea went back to the Biblical days of Joseph in Egypt. He said that his program took the best features of proposals that have been made, and combined them.

Rep. Poage (D-Tex) said the GOP was advertising it as "the Eisenhower-Republican farm program," and remarked that he didn't think Joseph disclosed his party affiliation when he went to get the corn out of the Egyptian granaries.

"He was probably a Republican," Benson retorted mildly.

Cooley said that while Benson is now asking for speed, his department turned down an opportunity months ago to get a hearing.

Adlai, Estes To Meet Head-On

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Feb. 21 (AP)—A head-to-head battle between Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver for Florida's 28 Democratic delegates was assured today.

Slates of delegate candidates for the two presidential aspirants were filed with Secretary of State R. A. Gray shortly after opening of qualifying for the May primaries.

The two will battle it out in the May 29 presidential preference primary.

Senate Increases Workman Disability Pay To $37.50

HARRISBURG, Feb. 21 (AP) — The Senate tonight passed unanimously legislation to increase workmen's compensation and occupational disease benefits from a maximum $32.50 a week to $37.50.

Two bills which also for the first time would make the benefits payable for life in the event of total disability went back to the House for agreement on a number of amendments.

The Senate's action won immediate praise from John R. Torquato, secretary of labor and industry. Torquato said that injured workers and their families will "benefit greatly by the bills."

The secretary noted that the bills although amended are "substantially the same" as when they passed the House so that no difficulty is anticipated in winning concurence.

Partial Payments

Under the legislation partial disability payments would jump from $23 a week to a maximum of $27.50 and run for as long as 350 weeks. Employes also would be required to supply medical care for six months instead of 120 days as at present.

The state Workmen's Compensation Board also would be allowed to order further medical and hospital care if it meant restoring the injured person's ability to make a living for himself.

In addition to the boost in maximum benefits paid, the legislation singles out some specific types of injury for increased benefits.

Two Changes

Torquato said there are two very important changes in the new legislation. One is that the specific number of benefit weeks would not begin until the end of a statutory healing period varying in length according to the seriousness of the loss.

The other is that in cases where a man in addition to suffering the loss of a member receives other injuries in the same accident the specified number of weeks would not begin until the end of the period of disability caused by the other separate injury.

Angstler, Tobyhanna Depot commander who escorted the general on an informal inspection of the huge Signal Corps installation at Tobyhanna. At the completion of his visit, General Corderman stated, "I am very much impressed with what I have seen of the operation of the depot and with the people I have met during my brief visit today. I hope to come back in the near future and spend more time and meet more of the people who are working at the depot".

Farview Quiz Encounters Twin Snags

SCRANTON, Pa., Feb. 21 (AP)—The State Senate committee poised to investigate security measures at Farview State Hospital for the Criminal Insane, Waymart, encountered twin snags today from two state cabinet members.

Welfare Secretary Harry Shapiro, expected to be one of the principal witnesses in the probe, asked postponement of his appearance at the hearing scheduled to open Friday.

And Atty. Gen. Herbert B. Cohen advised state Sen. Hugh J. McMenamin, committee co-chairman, that the department of justice is unable to furnish legal counsel for the hearing.

Cohen said the department has had to assign so many staff members to the investigation of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission that "it is absolutely impossible for us to assign any more men to these inquiries."

"Coddling" Charged

Secretary Shapiro, who had been accused of "coddling" dangerous prisoners at Farview, said that if the Senate committee insists, he will try to appear in Honesdale to testify Friday or Saturday.

But because of an extremely busy schedule facing him, he would prefer to appear before the six-man committee later in Harrisburg, he explained. He said it was his understanding that the committee plans to conduct a hearing in Harrisburg after taking testimony in Honesdale from Farview officials, area police and interested persons. He added that he has not received a reply from the committee on his request.

Freedoms Awards Announced For 1955 'Patriots'

VALLEY FORGE, Pa., Feb. 21 (AP)—Freedoms Foundation today cited the Boy Scouts of America, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Americans for the Competitive Enterprise System for what it said were dynamic, patriotic 1955 programs that promoted and maintained the American way of life.

Additionally, it spotlighted the anti-Communist writing of newspaper columnist and magazine editor David Lawrence, and lauded the dedication to constitutional freedom by the Daughters of the American Revolution, the dramatization of American history by the Du Pont Co., the "exceptional service" to freedom by Kiwanis International, and the "meaningful world-wide teaching program" of the Office of Armed Forces Information and Education.

Last Time

LINCOLN, Maine, Feb. 21 (AP) — A bear broke into a camp at Hay Pond during the weekend and — among other damage — broke all of a batch of phonograph records except one.

Game Warden Supervisor David Priest, reporting the damage today, said the one unbroken record was titled: "I'll Never Do It Again."

Probers To Start Digging For 'Improper' Lobbying

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—The Senate today took up a resolution to authorize what is being billed as a far-flung search for "improper or illegal" lobbying and political contributions.

A vote was put over until tomorrow.

The measure to set up an eight-man investigating committee of four Democrats and four Republicans was sponsored jointly by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas and Republican Leader Knowland of California.

Behind it were unanimous endorsements of the Senate Republican and Democratic Policy Committees.

That was enough to guarantee adoption.

Senate Pushed

Yet the Senate was sort of pushed into the whole thing as a result of reverberations set up by the disclosure of Sen. Case (R-SD) that he had been offered, and spurned, a $2,500 campaign contribution during the Senate scrap over the natural gas bill.

Around the Capitol there has been no little speculation as to just how deeply the Senate might dig in this election year for evidence of any improper attempts to influence it or its members on the gas bill or other subjects.

Sen. Lehman (D-NY) put it into words today on the Senate floor: "I have that feeling," he said, "that it is necessary to make very clear that the Senate is not going to pussyfoot on this situation or whitewash anybody."

Johnson declared the committee would have but two objectives:

Two Objectives

"To expose and bring to light any wrong-doing" and to "put teeth into the lobby bill," propose other legislation and not produce "headlines, heroes and white knights."

The money proferred to Case was traced through the hands of two lawyers to the personal funds of President Howard B. Keck of the Superior Oil Co. That company, which deals in crude oil and natural gas, favored passage of the gas bill. The bill, vetoed last week by President Eisenhower, would exempt natural gas producers from direct federal regulation.

Bulganin Asserts Soviets Lead In Peaceful Atom Use

MOSCOW, Feb. 21 (AP)—Premier Nikolai Bulganin told the 20th Communist party Congress today Soviet Union leads other countries in peaceful uses of atomic energy and must keep its lead for the building of communism.

The Premier, formally introducing the sixth Soviet five-year plan, also assured his audience there will be no return to the cult of individualism — such as prevailed in the Stalin era— and that the Soviet Union will continue under a collective party leadership.

He asked approval of the new five-year plan, which calls for big increases in industrial and farm production.

Era Differs

In his 3½-hour speech, Bulganin said the era the U.S.S.R. now is facing differs from the prewar era because "no longer is it the case of one Socialist (Communist) country competing with a capitalist world, but that of peaceful economic competition between two world systems — Socialist and capitalist. Nearly half the population of Europe and Asia have definitely and irrevocably broken with capitalism; more than a third of the human race has firmly taken the path of Socialist construction."

He asserted that cooperation among them is contributing to the growth of the Socialist countries and that the Socialist world system is "immune to crises of unemployment and other incurable maladies inherent in the capitalist system."

New Hardship For Europe

LONDON, Feb. 21 (AP) — Heavy snowstorms brought new hardship tonight to Europe's shivering millions in their record 22-day frigid siege.

The death toll rose to 747.

Weathermen promised no immediate relief, but there were some brighter spots.

A brilliant sun warmed Rome and other central Italian regions after the country's longest bad weather spell in history.

Squeaks Through On 2-Party Push

HARRISBURG, Feb. 21 (AP)—A 360 million dollar bipartisan income-sales tax compromise squeaked through the House today.

The outcome remained in doubt right up to the final roll call.

As it turned out, the touch-and-go balloting saw Republicans provide 12 votes to aid Democrats pass the 2 per cent personal net income tax, 110-88. The minimum needed to pass a bill is 106.

And Democrats gave the GOP a helping hand of 44 votes in approving a 2 per cent sales tax on selected subjects, principally luxuries and durable goods, 122-72.

A 2 per cent gross receipts levy on sales of meals and drinks in restaurants, taprooms and clubs and on lodging by hotels and motels was saved from defeat by a last-minute maneuver.

Changed Votes

Fifteen lawmakers from both sides of the aisle changed their votes from no to yes when it appeared that this sales-type tax bill would fall. The final roll call on it was 108-90.

The entire package went to the Republican-controlled Senate where its future is in doubt.

Three separate tax plans—the classified income tax, manufacturers' excise levy and a 3 per cent sales tax — already have been knocked down in the upper branch during the Commonwealth's 14-month tax deadlock.

The heartbreak of two weeks ago was transformed into a personal triumph for Rep. Readinger, House Democratic floor leader, who worked day and night to line up enough support for the tax package.

Happy Program Passed

"I'm happy the program passed with all the votes from both sides," he said smilingly. "I think it's the best program we can get at this session."

It was then House Republicans withdrew their support from the tax package on grounds Readinger failed to obtain Gov. Leader's promise that he would actually sign the package.

Readinger shelved the package after the governor refused to make such a pledge. The governor reversed himself next day and Readinger started work anew.

Rep. Smith, House Republican floor leader, said the package lost its bipartisan nature when Leader first refused to say he would sign it.

"Let me say this to the governor," Smith told the House in advance of the roll call. "If this program fails, he and his political advisors must take the blame. If these bills die, we didn't kill them. The governor killed them."

Against Income Tax

Smith voted against the 210 million dollar income tax although going along with the sales tax phases designed to raise 150 millions.

Smith, who is the Republican organization candidate for auditor general, was joined in the same voting performance by two other Republican members of the original eight-man bipartisan committee that drafted the compromise.

They were Rep. Kent (R—Crawford), GOP organization candidate for state treasurer, and Rep. Bower (R—Northumberland).

Rep. Johnson, House GOP whip, and the four Democratic members of the drafting committee went along with all three phases of the compromise.

Smith congratulated Readinger after the roll call.

"That was really a swell job," he told the Democratic leader.

Dulles Faces Sharp Quiz On Tanks

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP) — Democrats agitated over the tank sale to Saudi Arabia and other aspects of U. S. foreign policy today prepared to give Secretary of State Dulles a not-so-warm welcome home from a vacation in the Bahamas.

Sen. George (D-Ga) announced Dulles had agreed tentatively to go before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Friday.

Other senators reported the meeting would "cover the waterfront" of foreign affairs controversies. This would let Dulles in for a quizzing on at least these issues:

Tank Deal

1. Shipment to Saudi Arabia of 18 light tanks with the lifting of a short-lived embargo last week on sending war equipment to the Middle East.

2. Israel's expressed shock over the deal and renewed demands for consideration of her appeal for U. S. arms.

3. Complaints of Democrats that the Eisenhower administration has failed to take them into confidence on key foreign policy decisions.

4. What new strategy may be planned to prevent war in the Middle East and keep peace elsewhere in the world.

New Threats To Adenauer's Policies

BONN, Germany, Feb. 21 (AP)—Fresh challenges to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's pro-Western policy stretched ahead today in a series of state tests that threaten his grip on Parliament.

Baden-Wuerttemberg is going to the polls March 4.

The aloof old man—more aloof than ever since he returned to work three months ago after a long siege of bronchial pneumonia —is on the defensive in a bitter struggle for political power.

Proof of its gravity came yesterday in the ouster of one of Adenauer's chief lieutenants, Karl Arnold, as premier of the Bonn Republic's richest state, North Rhine-Westphalia.

The Rightist Free Democrats—FDP, partners in his national coalition, teamed with the antiNATO Socialists in the North Rhine-Westphalia Legislature to unseat Arnold on a confidence motion, 102-96. Socialist Fritz Steinhoff replaced Arnold.

Yetter Opposes Two Parts Of Tax Package

Rep. Van D. Yetter (D-Monroe) voted for the 2 per cent personal income tax bill that cleared the State House yesterday, but cast negative votes on the 2 per cent selective sales tax and the 2 per cent gross receipts tax for hotels, motels, restaurants and clubs.

Rep. August Metz (R-Pike) voted against all three measures. The income tax bill passed the House, 110-88; the sales tax, 122-72, and the gross receipts levy, 108-90.

Lenten Meditation

By Rev. Edward T. Houston
Pilgrim Holiness Church,
Stroudsburg.

"BEHOLD the lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world."—(John 1:29).

In the days preceding the death and resurrection of our Lord it is but natural that we behold Him anew. True we cannot behold Him in visible person as John exhorted his hearers in the text, but we can behold Him in His manifest spirit and work. Jesus is the lamb of God. God's lamb in a peculiar sense.

He is God's only begotten Son.

He was selected by God for the purpose of redemption and whose death He accepted as the one atonement for the sins of man. By His death He took away the curse of sin and in His blood alone do we have salvation.

He became a curse for us, by voluntary sacrifice He bore our sins in His own body on the tree, suffered our penalty, the just for the unjust, to bring us to God. "Christ gave Himself for us." It is only through faith in His death that we are justified, that we have forgiveness of sins.

We may make much of the mystery of His incarnation, be inspired with His holy life filled with miracles of mercy and grace, taste with Him the bitter cup of Gethsemane, but these have no virtue apart from His death.

His life is meaningless without calvary. It is not then the following of His example, the acceptance of His ethics, the living of His principles, it is by faith in His shed blood as our atonement that we are saved.

May we in these tragic days turn our gaze on the lamb of God. Look upon Him in sacrificial death. To do so may fill us with shame and contrition, with reverance and humility, with devout thankfulness, with saving faith, with supreme affection.

"Were the whole realms of nature mine, that were a present far too small; Love so amazing, so divine, demands by heart, my life, my all."

Stocks Move Irregularly; Average Advances Slightly

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP)—The stock market went through a slack pre-holiday session today with prices narrowly mixed but pointed slightly higher.

All financial and commodity markets in the United States will be closed tomorrow in observance of Washington's Birthday.

Few individual features existed, and there was no strong group movement in the market.

Coppers stood out strongly at times on the heels of price increases posted Friday by Anaconda and late yesterday by Kennecott and Phelps Dodge. Their sometimes good gains faded at the finish.

Airlines in Demand

Near the close buying was concentrated in airline issues with good gains shown by Pan American, Eastern, American, Northwest, and TWA. It was noted that the Civil Aeronautics Board approved a boost in transocean fares.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks edged up 10 cents at $177.60. It was ahead 20 cents yesterday and $2.80 on Friday. The components of the average were mixed—industrials up 20 cents, rails down 20 cents, and utilities up 30 cents.

Out of 1,178 individual issues traded, 514 advanced and 402 declined with 23 new highs and 7 new lows for 1955-56.

"An auto insurance policy is a Promise ...as good as the company behind it!"

GENERAL ROBERT E. WOOD, former Chairman of the Board, Sears, Roebuck and Company and founder of the Allstate Insurance Company

"TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO I stood before the Sears, Roebuck and Co. Board of Directors and enthusiastically recommended the founding of the Allstate Insurance Company. I was convinced we could give the car owner a better value for his auto insurance dollar. But just as important, I was confident we could set a new high standard for claim settlements.

"After all, an auto insurance policy is a promise to protect you against certain financial losses in the event of an auto accident. Like any promise, it is only as good as the company behind it. We were determined to treat each claim with the same absolute fairness that had made Sears one of the most trusted names in American business by promptly paying a dollar for every dollar due.

"By following this philosophy of fair play, Allstate has risen to world auto insurance leadership in just 25 years. Over 3,250,000 policyholders say much better than I can that 'you can be sure you're in good hands with Allstate'."

We're proud of this record!

As Allstate celebrates its silver anniversary, we point with pride to the high percentage of policyholders who continue with us year after year. This fact alone is convincing evidence that Allstate is living up to the standard of fast, fair claim settlements set when the company was founded.

Allstate has also kept its promise to deliver a better auto insurance value. Over the past 25 years, car owners have saved millions of dollars with Allstate. You just can't buy better auto insurance, why pay more?

VA To Move Clinic From Wilkes-Barre

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP) The Veterans' Administration (VA) today informed Pennsylvania congressmen it has decided to proceed with plans to move its VA clinic from downtown Wilkes-Barre, Pa., to the VA hospital outside the city.

Reps. Fenton and Simpson, Pennsylvania Republicans, said they had been assured by veterans' administrator Harvey V. Higley that the move will result in notable improvement both in the quality and speed of clinical services.

They were assured also, they said, the VA's regional office in Wilkes-Barre will continue to function as at present.

The congressmen said that after reviewing the move they are convinced that to consolidate the in-patient and out-patient services at the hospital is a logical step.

They quoted Dr. William S. Middleton, VA medical director, as saying that the "foremost advantage for such a consolidation is the improvement of the quality of medical services."

Company G's Recruiting Campaign Deserves Solid Support Of Every Citizen In This Area

Today Company G, 109th Infantry, 28th Division, Pennsylvania National Guard of East Stroudsburg will hold an intensive one-day recruiting campaign. Its purpose is increasing the strength of the state's National Guard to help take up the slacks caused by reduction of our military forces.

This makes sense on several counts. For one thing it's good economics. A large and strong National Guard, composed of volunteer citizen-soldiers, is about the most in the way of defense we can get for our money. Guardsmen give their country much more in protection than they ever receive in dollars.

For another thing, the spirit of volunteer service which is the foundation of the 28th Infantry Division, is the best tradition of our American way of life. Very probably our historic preference for doing a job voluntarily before it is forced upon us, without choice, accounts for much of our strength as a Nation.

The success of the voluntary approach to matters military is forcefully illustrated by the fact that the National Guard, with voluntary service as its keystone, is the oldest military organization in our Nation. Its history dates back over more than 300 years, well before the Revolutionary War.

And from the Revolution on, Guardsmen have fought for their country in every conflict in which it was engaged. Our own Company G has a glorious record of service starting with the Mexican Border incident before World War One, then, with the remainder of the 28th, it formed the hard-hitting Keystone Division for the first World War. It became the famous "Bloody Bucket" Division of World War Two. Later it relieved occupation troops on duty in Germany and many of its members stayed in service to battle in Korea.

The peacetime service of the National Guard and the 28th Infantry Division is also impressive. We know of its work in time of emergency and disaster in this state. Impressive indeed is the record amassed by the 28th Infantry Division, and particularly Company G, during the floods of last August.

Company G's service here won a high citation from regimental headquarters and the citizenry of this community in their own way expressed their gratitude.

Now, at the request of Congress, and to meet a need for the particular kind of service which only the National Guard can offer, the Guard must increase its strength.

Approximately, the day chosen for its big recruitment drive falls on the birthday anniversary of the founder of our nation. Thus is symbolized, if a symbol is neded, the essential character of the National Guard in the affairs of our country. Its campaign deserves our very best support.

Primary Election Activity Calls Attention To Need For Registration Before March 5

While the primary election petition-filing activity—which produced some apparent contests for various offices—is fresh in everybody's mind, it's time for every voter to check his or her registration standing.

If you've moved, you should correct the permanent registration files at the County Commissioners' office. If you failed to vote in the last two elections, you're not even registered to vote to nominate your favorite candidate.

County Commissioners' office is open from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. In addition commissioners have arranged to have their office open from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. February 24 and March 2 for registration service.

The deadline to register or correct a faulty registration is March 5. Don't delay!

George Sokolsky Says . . .

No Group Of Doctors, Politicians Can Tell Who'll Be Alive, Ike Or Adversary, In 5 Years

It is different when you lie in bed reading the doctors' report on Ike's coronary. You say to yourself that when your doctors show up, you'll demand the same kind of a report. I too have had something of the sort all along because my doctors are not the secretive kind and, more or less, come clean when asked a direct question. Also, I know how to blackmail them which is to threaten to mention their names in these writings. Most doctors fear that sort of mention although psychiatrists revel in it. The better doctors still avoid publicity as a form of advertising.

Having spent five weeks now with a coronary, let me tell you a few secrets that have come out in casual conversations. When a doctor tells you that you have five or 10 years or any period more of usefulness, he says more than he knows. Even the cardiogram cannot tell you anything of the sort. I was in very good physical shape just before I was hit down and, I understand, so was Ike. So a fellow has to assume that a coronary accident can happen to anyone, at any time, and go on about his business.

In effect that is what Ike's doctors were trying to say but there is so much mystery and mysticism about heart attacks that most people, particularly wives, take it all wrong. They assume that because a fellow got a knock, he is all finished; he should walk with a cane, go slowly, keep away from all excitement and everlastingly eat salt-free food. Did you notice that nothing of this was prescribed for Ike? I am sure that what they told him privately was that when he got tired, he should lie down and if possible take a nap—any time of the day.

Politicians are very selfish people, as a rule. They earn a living in a curious manner and many of them will rejoice that Ike is declared competent for five or 10 years, and others will secretly regret it because it will affect their fortunes. Actually, none of them know who will be dead or alive five years from now. I might have been dead and buried by now. No doctor can guarantee life; he can only try to cure ailments. No gathering of doctors and politicians can assure us that Ike or his adversary will win the race for life no matter who wins the race at the pol's.

In a word, let us not make a publicity fiasco of the heart as has been made of other parts of the body by fund-raising schemes. The heart is too serious a business. It may yet be found by those who investigate that deep emotional factors play as great a role in a heart attack as any other cause, and if a man has a conscience, being President of the United States is as much as emotional trial as it is hard work. I know that some of Mr. Eisenhower's friends are devising all sorts of ways and means to lighten his toil, but what can be done to lessen the spiritual travail of the soul that must know every major act may lead to the eventual defeat of his country and the abasement of our civilization? We, on the outside, cannot possibly know how devastating it is to have to deal with a brutal creature like Khrushchev or to know that there is no longer either honor or dignity in associations among the rulers of states. These and other immoralities that have entered our lives can literally break the heart of a man in Eisenhower's position. And there are many more things like that.

We may sometime or other get to know that the heart, while it may not be the seat of the emotions, as the poets believed, can be shocked by emotional excitement into having an accident, from which many recover. But no one can know whose turn it is to go and it seems uncommonly vulgar to speculate so much about Ike's health. He will either survive or he will not, but the United States will go on just as it has gone on after the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Hen Party Chitchat Insults Intelligence

Nothing is so deadly boring as a "hen party," most particularly to the hens themselves.

Singly they are delightful, but collectively—mercy! Each of them has something of interest to say—but will they say it? No. One lived for years in the Philippines, has a fabulous collection of Moro art. Another is a fine musician. Another is on the school board—or is a painter—or teaches remedial reading—or something.

Get a dozen females together at a hen party and you have cluck, cluck, cluck. Not an interesting and spirited conversation—only clucks, usually on the lowest plane of domestic complaint. They are reducing. Or they are adding two teaspoons of vanilla. Or recounting dull remarks of bright offspring.

As they leave this frightful foray upon intelligence, each has the same reaction. "Is there something wrong with me? Why else should I feel that women are such bores. Dreary empty-headed bores!"

Well, why should it be so? When conversation could be fun, why must it descend to putting pans in the oven or knitting one, purling two?

The situation comes about, in part, from the need to find a common denominator of talk, and in part from self-consciousness about drawing attention to self. It might smack of the pompous to describe a painting at the local gallery. Or it could appear wildly offbeat to deploce the fact that there IS no gallery in town.

Nearly everywhere there are women's clubs whose purpose is learning. It's fun, as learning always is. But let the same gals gather without the red flag of purpose—and cluck, cluck, cluck. And the one with least to say, says it loudest and longest.

Of course, there must be a time for that easy chitchat among friends, of things quite unimportant, trivial gossip. Women get lonely for their own kind, and enjoy sharing their common problems. But gad! Enough is enough. The girls are missing too much, content with clucking cliques. They need to draw more deeply into resources already at hand, to listen to what is unique rather than what is the same old hash.

"Where was that, sir?" asked Five-Ace.

Britain, France Want Quick U.N. Intervention In Mideast

Washington, Feb. 21—A serious hitch has developed in those increasingly urgent three-power discussions here on measures to avert war in the inflamed Middle East.

The U. S., Britain and France are in full agreement on the basic policy that they must act together on whatever is done, but they are sharply split on what that should be.

Britain and France favor immediate intervention by a United Nations military force, consisting initially of American, British and Canadian troops.

The U. S. is opposed to that "at this time."

Instead it is proposing "Trieste-type diplomacy."

This is the private report on the dragging Middle East talks which leaders of the House Foreign Affairs Committee have received from top State Deuartment officials.

The latter authorities explained "Trieste-type diplomacy" as the backstage negotiations which were used to work out the amicable solution of the explosive dispute between Italy and Yugoslavia several years ago. This was accomplished by the U. S. and Britain outside the UN.

The Foreign Affairs Committeemen have also been informed that Canada has halted arms sales to Israel pending the outcome of the three-power deliberations. They have been officially advised by the Canadian government of this unannounced decision.

Israel sought particularly Canadian tanks and jet fighters to counter such armaments the Arabs are getting from Russia and its satellites. Last month Canada announced it would resume shipping weapons to Israel. Foreign Affairs Committeemen understand they are again being suspended as a result of "informal representations by the State Department and British Foreign Office."

What It's About—Two reasons are given for the State Department's opposition to the British-French plan.

These reasons are: (1) Desire to avoid direct U. S. military involvement in the highly-strained relations between the Arabs and Israel; (2) reluctance to seek further action from the UN, where Russia would be in a strong position to demand a hand in anything that is done.

The Kremlin has already set the stage for that in its recent blast against the three-power discussions here.

The British-French proposal for immediate use of "military detachments" to prevent the outbreak of large-scale fighting, is supported by Major General Edson Burns, commander of the UN Truce Supervision Organization. His staff totals 45, of whom 37 are field observers.

Burns contends that doubling the number of inspectors, as recommended by the State Department, will do no good in averting war. He holds that can only be done by UN peace-enforcing "military detachments."

Assistant Secretary of State George V. Allen is stressing that "a renunciation of the use of force by both sides" is considered by the U. S. as the first essential for solving the Middle East crisis. Foreign Affairs Committeemen say he has indicated that if such an agreement can be obtained from the Arabs and Israel, the U. S. would be willing to support military intervention to maintain peace.

Britain and France are credited with favoring a pledge renouncing the use of force, but argue this should be sought after military measures are taken to bar fighting and not before. They hold the danger of war is so acute that emergency preventive measures must be employed at once.

Note: The Navy is formulating plans for shortening the line of supplies of the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean. This crucial Fleet has no permanent depots or drydocks in this strategic area; its carriers and other ships are supplied directly from the U. S.

Who's Running It—Senate Republican Leader William Knowland brought to light an unexpected piece of information about those highly-secret negotiations with Red China which have been going on in Geneva since last August.

The Californian uncovered the fact that Secretary of State Dulles is personally handling these protracted discussions.

This was revealed by Assistant Secretary Robert Bowie, while being questioned by Knowland at a private meeting of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Bowie, head of the State Department's Policy Planning Staff, was asked about the possibility of Red China agreeing to renounce the use of force in the Formosa Straits.

"It has seemed to me that trying to obtain such an agreement was worthwhile," said Bowie. "It's the only way to determine their attitude. I was skeptical about the likelihood of getting such a commitment from them."

"Can you advise us what progress there has been on this at Geneva?" continued Knowland.

"I would prefer that you address that question to Secretary Dulles," replied Bowie. "I suggest that because he has been personally handling the direction of these negotiations."

That ended this extremely interesting discussion. Knowland asked no other questions, and neither did any other Committeeman.

Foreign Flashes—Intelligence reports that Russia is 50 per cent and more behind in its economic aid to Red China. Also that the same is true as regards Soviet promises to India . . . French President Rene Coty's visit to Chile has been postponed because of the chaotic state of France's domestic politics . . . Those recent violent Bombay riots are still reverberating. Bombay police have arrested more than 7,000 persons on charges growing out of the disturbances . . .

States Move To Kill Off Barberries

—by H. G. Heller

Dr. William L. Henning, State Secretary of Agriculture, announces that the 1956 Pennsylvania campaign to eradicate rust-spreading barberry bushes is underway.

The first step was to notify boards of County Commissioners that they have opportunity to participate through matching funds provided by the State Department of Agriculture.

More than 15,128,000 European or common barberry bushes have been destroyed in Pennsylvania since the eradication program was started about 20 years ago, Dr. Henning said.

Japanese barberries, the type usually used in ornamental plantings and in hedges, are harmless, he explained. But the European barberry and its hybrids are host plants at one stage in the development of black stem rust of small grains, a definite threat to grain production on Pennsylvania farms.

As soon as weather permits, the 1956 drive for eradication of European barberry bushes will be started by trained workers employed by county, state and federal governments. It is a cooperateive effort of the Bureau of Plant Industry, State Department of Agriculture, the agricultural experiment station and extension service of the Pennsylvania State University, the plant pest control branch of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and the counties in which the work is done.

Control work was accomplished last year in 15 counties in areas totaling 2,209 square miles, including 1,173 square miles worked for the first time. The area in the State that still requires initial working totals 6,549 square miles, Dr. Henning said. Nearly 14,000 square miles are now "on maintenance" and should require no future checking.

During 1955 more than 128,000 rust-spreading bushes were destroyed in the 15 counties worked. Chemicals were used to kill the harmful plants. Four new types of chemicals were tried and three that showed promise will be tested further in 1956.

In some years Pennsylvania farmers have lost several million dollars worth of small grains from rust spread by European barberries. Last year, although rust was found in most fields in the areas where eradication was underway, no serious damage occurred, possibly due to weather conditions being unfavorable for spread of rust spores.

The Wedding Of Weddings

The wedding of Prince Rainier and Grace Kelly is set for April 18 and 19, with a civil ceremony on the first date and we think this one may be "the spectacular" in 3-D in point of general festivities by the public. The religious ceremonies will be kept within the bounds of dignity, but all in all the two-day wedding should be the biggest thing since Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip got hitched. It will put Monaco on the map for millions and the little principality should get more front-page space than Moscow, Peiping, Washington and New Delhi. Khrushchev, Bulganin, Nehru and all the other big wheels will take a back seat for the Kellys.

This will be a story-book event out of Aesop and Hans Christian Andersen, with additional choreography and music by Walt Disney, Rodgers and Hammerstein and the Macy Parade experts. There could be a big parade running something like this:

Section I—Motorcycle police, Monte Carlo croupiers, Riviera publicity men and Casino winners in oversized limousines.

Section II—Casino losers on foot by necessity, or traveling in lease-lend hacks.

Section III—Love song writers of the world. Authors of romantic novels. Writers in search of authentic details for boy-meets-girl musicals.

Section IV—The royal pair in a flowered golden coach, moving under a convoy of live doves.

Section V—Hollywood's European representatives assigned to assess box-office value. "Variety" critics with Abel Green as grand marshal.

Section VI—Movie colony associates of Miss Kelly who flew over for the trip, the ceremonies, the wine, the roulette and the tax exemptions.

Section VII—Agents from the Chambers of Commerce of Venice, Paris, Lucerne, Geneva and other famous spots in search of similar advertising ideas and techniques.

Section VIII—Delegates from the New Orleans Mardi Gras and the Mummers Parade, ever on the hunt for bigger and better floats and more glamorous drum-majorettes.

Section IX—Hollywood producers trying to determine if this, even with Grace Kelly in it, can be a box-office success without Frank Sinatra.

Section X—Tourists, visiting costume designers, Monte Carlo habitues, camera fanatics, second platoon correspondents, unattached poets, sketch artists, etc.

Section XI—Representatives of major American industries present to determine whether the TV pictures of the event will have public appeal enough to be sponsored and boost the sales of American cigarettes, beer, dentrifices, cake-mixes, tea, steel, automobiles, copper roofing, etc. (Take it from there).

In the first two years of installment buying of stocks nearly $29,000,000 worth of shares were bought, it is announced . . . My New York

—by Mel Heimer

Miami Beach, Fla.—Certainly this must be the fastest growing city in the world—but have no fear it will lose its lovely, whacky atmosphere. It still has all its overtones of Broadway and it is a happy duty to report that near the northern end of the beach there are these three hotels, virtually in juxtaposition: the Queen Elizabeth, the Princess Margaret and the Buckingham. Not to forget of course, the countless inns nameded Hampshire House, Ritz, Waldorf, etc. For the homesick New Yorker, no doubt.

In this world's-fair type fairyland, the Fontainebleu—last year's hotel—still retains one distinction: it has no sign atop it. It looks like a cross between Yankee stadium and Chicago's Merchandise Mart. I met Morris Lapidus, who designed it—and most of the other show places here—at a cocktail party and he said the no-sign business was an afterthough.

"When I got through with it," Lapidus grinned, "I couldn't find any place to put a sign—so the owners said great, it's such a plush place, we won't need one." Morris says that in designing these lavish 40-bucks-a-day hostelries, he tries to make them "whimsical and as unlike home as possible." The theory pays off.

This year's hotel is the Eden Roc, for which Morris also drew up plans, and its nightly lobby parade of celebrities and people who just come to gawk at the celebrities, is currently the thickest in town. Joe E. Lewis, the raconteur and horse player, is entertaining at its Pompeii Room.

Also Miss Gloria De Haven, who once accepted from me and bet on eight straight losers at the Monmouth Park racetrack. Miss De Haven's voice has improved sharply and she has become big-time as a saloon performer. Lewis' voice is about the same. So who needs a voice?

Old Hialeah, under new management, is as sunny and heart-breaking as ever for the two-dollar player. The same old regulars, to be seen at Saratoga and Belmont in the summer, are at hand. Also the same old wealthy horse owners. One afternoon I sat around matching tips with Kitty Cudahy, the pert, brisk young wife of the meat-packing scion, and she said she and her spouse were going in for breeding thoroughbreds now. "Of course," she said apologetically, "we've just got a small farm, only 90 acres or so." I told her that was too bad. Always sympathetic.

The food on the beach is as outlandishly attractive as ever. My favorite is Fan and Bill's, an offshoot of the restaurant begun two decades ago in Manhattan by Bill Sherman and his late wife. "It's added 10 years to my life," Bill told me one night over chicken in the pot. "Every so often I just take off and drive down to Key West and vicinity and put on old clothes and lay around in the sun. The food is lousy but the sun is great. New York? Oh, I used to come up every autumn to see the World Series, but somehow I missed it this time—only you know what? I didn't miss it at all, if you see what I mean."

Two More Men Implicated In $1,200 Copper Theft At P-K

Brothers Arrested By Police

TWO MEN have been implicated in the Feb. 10 theft of $1,200 worth of top-grade scrap copper from the Patterson-Kelley Co. in East Stroudsburg. The arrests were made by East Stroudsburg police.

Both Eugene Van Horn, 21, of E. Broad St., East Stroudsburg, and his brother, Walter Van Horn, 24, Tobyhanna, pleaded innocent to larceny charges before Justice of the Peace Elmer Bean last night.

Eugene Van Horn was then committed to the Monroe County Jail in lieu of $2,500 bail, while the other suspect was released in $1,000 bail.

Previous Arrests

Arrested earlier on similar charges were Clair L. Metzgar, 29, Bushkill; Walter Carl Whitmore, 31, Delaware Water Gap, and William G. Miller, 31, Washington St., East Stroudsburg.

A detainer for Elmer Wildrick, 31, of East Stroudsburg, has been filed with authorities in Belvidere, N. J., where he is presently being held. East Stroudsburg Police have accused Wildrick of stealing 285 pounds of copper from Patterson-Kelley on Jan. 22.

Man Accused Of Robbery

CHARLES W. SMITH, 26, of 14 E. Kistler St., East Stroudsburg, was arrested by East Stroudsburg Police yesterday on charges growing out of a $60 robbery at Mount Tom the night of Feb. 16.

Assistant Police Chief Travis Seese last night disclosed that Smith will be given a preliminary hearing at 1:30 p.m. today before Justice of the Peace Elmer Bean.

Other details were withheld until after the hearing.

Store Burns In $250,000 Allentown Fire

ALLENTOWN, Feb. 21 (AP) — Damage estimated at a quarter million dollars was caused by a fire which swept a supermarket in downtown Allentown.

An occupant of a nearby house turned in the first alarm when he saw flames shoot out of a Food Fair supermarket warehouse at 917-921 Walnut St. last night. By the time firemen reached the scene, flames burst through the roof and, fed by flour and other stock, spread to the market itself next door.

Seven families, including a semi-invalid, Mrs. Hilda Christman, were evacuated on the order of Fire Chief John Butz. Mrs. Christman was carried out and taken to a hospital until able to return home. One fireman, Vincent Boyle, sustained a hand injury.

Flames shot into the street like a blowtorch when at the height of the blaze a large plate glass window in front of the market was shattered. Chief Butz said he was investigating the possibility that the fire resulted from spontaneous combustion in the warehouse.

Company G Recruiting Men Today

TODAY IS "Company G" day in Monroe County.

Throughout the day, this county's National Guard organization will be carrying out an intensive recruitment campaign. The drive is designed to raise the company's membership total.

Headquarters for the recruiting campaign in Stroudsburg will be the Penn Stroud Hotel lobby. In the hotel lobby a display of Company G literature and information on the National Guard will be set up.

Meant For Public

A Company G representative will be stationed in the lobby all day, according to Capt. Gerald Shanley Jr., executive office, of the Second Batallion, 109th Infantry, of which Company G is a part.

Today's one-day drive is intended not only to "bring in recruits" but also "to acquaint the community and the general public with the working of the National Guard, its aims and purposes in peacetime," Capt. Shanley said.

In special observance of the Monroe County drive for recruits, today has been officially proclaimed as "Company G Day" by the burgesses of Monroe's four boroughs—East Stroudsburg, Delaware Water Gap, Stroudsburg and Mount Pocono.

96 Men On Rolls

Company G now has three officers and 93 enlisted men. When the time rolls around for regular Summer encampment at Indiantown Gap on Aug. 12 this year, State National Guard officials have asked that the company's strength be raised to four officers and 125 men.

The drive beginning this morning is part of a concentrated effort to reach that goal, Capt. Shanley said. The campaign for new recruits will be continued throughout the next five months.

During that time information on enlistment may be secured from Capt. Shanley or from Lt. Richard Rugg, company commander or Vincent Marek, G Company's first sergeant.

Truck Damages Parking Meter

A ONE-AND-A-HALF ton truck caused undetermined damage to a parking meter yesterday morning while backing into an alley off N. Sixth St.

Stroudsburg Patrolman Gaylord Heberling, who investigated, said the driver, Howard L. Gussett, 49, of 828 Fairview Ave., Stroudsburg, will be made to pay damages.

The meter standard was bent against the sidewalk, police said.

Jaycee Unit Plans Rodeo

POCONO MOUNTAINS Jaycees met last night at what officers termed one of the best-attended meetings of the past year.

Members discussed plans for the second annual "Teen-age Roadeo" to be held April 7 in Stroudsburg. Plans for the annual Easter egg hunt sponsored by Jaycees were also discussed.

Teen-Age Twins Indicted In Death Of Cub Scout

WHEELING, W. Va., Feb. 21 (AP) —Teen-age twin brothers were indicted by the grand jury today for the brutal slaying of a nine-year-old Cub Scout, who was out selling tickets for a scout benefit.

The identical twins, Joseph and Thomas Williams Jr., 14, were arrested in Feb. 11, the day after David Powell's body was found in a part of the Williams' cellar sometimes used as a boys' hideout.

The child was reported missing on Feb. 9 after he failed to return from canvassing homes in the area with tickets. His body was found the next day by a relative, who was part of a searching party.

His head was crushed. A blood-stained two-by-four and a bloody hammer lay beside him.

The twins have maintained their innocence. Robbery was given as the motive for the murder.

The historic Liberty Bell was made in England in 1752 and later recast in Philadelphia.

$75 Birthday Fund Given Children Of Aid Society By Stroud Community Club

THIS YEAR—thanks to the efforts of the Stroud Community Club—children under care of Children's Aid Society in Monroe County will get a "birthday present."

Yesterday at a meeting of the CAS board, Mrs. Jean Albert, executive secretary and Mrs. Donald Gilpin, board president, told members that the Community Club had asked if it could present a special fund to be used for birthday gifts to the society's wards.

The Community Club action is similar, in intent, to that followed regularly by the Junior Woman's Club which sponsors an annual Christmas dance to finance Christmas gifts for CAS charges.

Presentation of the Community Club's fund—a $75 check—was made by Mrs. Hazel West, club president. Mrs. Albert said that it will be used to give each child a small cash present on his birthday. An enclosed card will state that the gift from CAS has been made possible by the Stroud Community Club's generosity.

Annual Meeting

Children's Aid Society is responsible for the provision of foster homes for children in Monroe County who come from broken homes or are otherwise homeless.

In this respect, Mrs. Albert also reported on observations made at a recent meeting of the State advisory board of Children's Aid of Pennsylvania. At that meeting, she said, speakers seemed in agreement that "we have moved from the age of the orphan child to the age of the disturbed child" who comes from a broken home, but is not left without parents, or one parent.

Board members discussed plans fo rthe annual meeting to be held on May 22. The State meeting will be held on April 24 in Harrisburg. Mrs. Gilpin asked that a large local delegation attend the meeting.

Some Offices Closed Today For Holiday

Today is Washington's birthday.

In observance of the date, the banks, postoffices and the Monroe County Courthouse will be closed.

The State Employment Service in East Stroudsburg will also be closed for the day, while the Department of Public Assistance will remain open.

Retail merchants will carry on business as usual.

Court Sends Arsonist To Penitentiary

The Pike County grand jury returned seven true bills against a fifth Dingmans Ferry man.

Lewis Myers Jr., 19, received a 3½ to 10 year sentence in the Eastern State Penitentiary and was fined $500 and costs on an arson charge. Myers also was given a 2 to 5 year sentence on a burglary complaint. Both sentences are to run concurrently.

A third charge of malicious mischief with the use of explosives brought Myers a separate sentence of 1½ to 5 years.

Sent To Camp Hill

Arthur Erickson, 18, was given an indefinite term at Camp Hill on an arson charge.

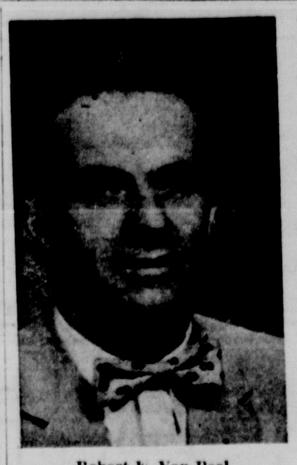

Milford State Police said Myers and Erickson were involved in a $11,500 fire on the property of Alfred Gavoille in Delaware Township, Pike County, last year.

Bryan Kloetzer, 20, was fined $200 and costs and received a suspended sentence on two charges of larceny.

William Ford Sargeant, 25, was handed a 1½ to 5 year term at Eastern Penitentiary for malicious mischief with the use of explosives.

True bills were returned by the grand jury against Leonard B. Herr, 43, charged with six counts of burglary and one count of malicious mischief with the use of explosives.

Prosecutors in the above cases were Troopers John McCarthy and Joseph A. Wrobleski, of the Milford Substation.

Space Heaters Safe When Properly Used

By David G. Bareuther
AP Real Estate Editor

TRAGIC FIRES caused by oil heaters are being reported in the papers almost daily this winter. Children are trapped in their blazing homes. There is no ecuse for such tragedies. It certainly calls for a second look at this form of house heating — especially since space heaters provide the only heat in about 14 million American homes and supplementary heat in millions of other homes.

There is no reason why oil heaters, as well as gas heaters, can't be safe and operated safely. Lots of peop'e can't afford a furnace or boiler. In fact central heating, usually regarded as a symbol of the American standard of living, became used in a majority of homes only in the last few years.

The 1950 census showed that only 50.4 per cent of the single family homes in this country had central heat. The heating industry estimates that this percentage has now reached 59. This means that 41 houses out of every 100 have no furnace.

However, space heaters can be safe if you make sure you have a good one, made by a reputable manufacturer and properly installed.

Six Dnt's

Here's how you can write your own guarantee for an oil heater: The National Fire Protection Assn. says, "Specify equipment bearing the label of the Underwriter's Laboratories. Don't purchase second-hand equipment without competent advice. Trust only qualified merchants to install your equipment. Obtain skilled maintenance on oil-burning units."

Because portable, unvented heaters are the most hazardous, the association offers these six tips:

1. DON'T place a portable heater in or near a doorway.
2. DON'T place it where it might easily be tipped over.
3. DON'T place it close to curtains or bedding.
4. DON'T operate a portable heater in a room lacking ventilation. Open a window, especially at night.
5. DON'T let children play near a portable heater.
6. DON'T fill a heater while it is burning or hot. Use a container with a pouring spout and use a funnel.

Manufacturers are vitally concerned with the safety angle for all types of heaters. We asked Sheldon Coleman of Wichita, Kans., who heads a firm making space heaters as well as furnaces and air conditioners, for his point of view on this problem. He pointed out that ventilated oil heaters, in which fumes are carried outdoors through a flue, can be considered safe when they carry the UL label and are installed in accordance with local building codes and manufacturers' instructions.

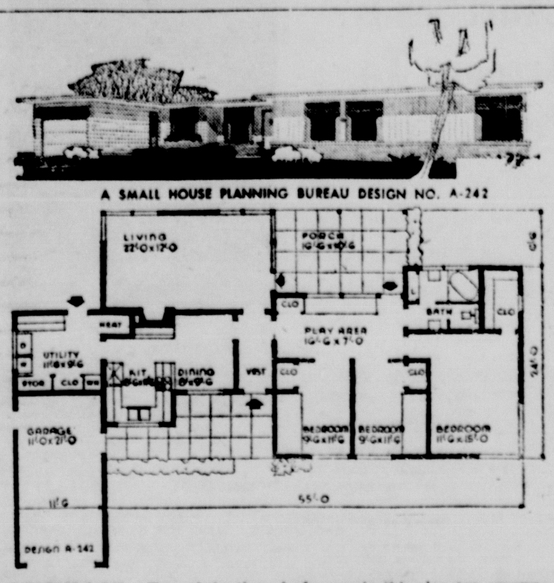

Safety Features

"Today's vented oil heaters are designed so that the flame is concealed and the cabinet sstay relative'y cool," Coleman explained. "In the case of the oil floor furnace, a safety control automatically shuts the flame off if the temperature at the floor-level grille, where the warm air comes out, threatens to rise above the safety limit. This is positive insurance against fire if a rug should accidentally be pushed across the grille and block the flow of air."

Modern gas heaters also embody just about evry possible safety feature. When you buy a gas heater, check to see that it has controls that automatically shut off the gas to prevent overheating or the escape of unburned gas, concealing the flame so that children or combustible material such as curtains can't brush against it, and that it has relatively cool cabinets to permit installation cloose to walls.

For gas heaters, the counterpart ofthe UL label is the label of the American Gas Assn. This AGA mark is an accepted authority and can't be used by a manufacturer until the appliance has passed extensive safety tests in the AGA laboratories in Cleveland.

So many people areenlarging their homes, finishing attics, converting porches or breezeways or garages into rooms, that space heaters will be here to stay regardless of central heating installations.

DESIGN A-242. Two of the three bedrooms in this plan are arranged to open into a combination hall and indoor play area. From this playroom, doors lead to the master bedroom, bath, toilet and covered porch.

The living room is on the garden side, and also opens onto the porch. It has full length corner windows and fireplace. Kitchen and dinette and entrance face the front, with a terrace and walk between garage and entrance.

Kitchen equipment is built into U-shaped cabinets and includes a cabinet on the inside wall. Heater alcove, hot water heater, coat closet, storage and supply cabinets are provided for in the utility room. Other storage space includes closet, counter and storage cabinet in the play area.

Plans call for a floor slab on fill, flat roof, wide siding and vertical siding above brick base in front. Floor area, not including garage and porch, is 1,393 sq. ft. with cubage of 13,234 cu. ft.

Timely Tips On Removing Wallpaper From Plaster

DO....WET THE OLD paper with warm water, using a wide brush or a sponge; then scrape off the paper with a putty knife.

DO....work in vertical strips from top to bottom, resoaking the paper when it does not come off with only moderate scraping pressure.

DO....on heavy or varnished wallpaper—where the water does not soak through easily—sandpaper the surface before appiying water.

DO....for especially tough jobs, consider the use of a commercial wallpaper remover (usually a powder to be mixed with water) or a rented steaming machine.

A Few Don'ts

DON'T....forget that if you add washing soda to the water, it will aid in softening the wallpaper paste but will mar adjoining woodwork if you are not extra careful.

DON'T....make the two most common mistakes—failing to allow the softening agent time to penetrate and failing to resoak the paper when it doesn't scrape off easily.

DON'T....fail, after the paper has been removed, to wash the walls with clear warm water to remove any remaining traces of paste and paper.

DON'T....forget to apply glue sizing to the walls before putting on new wallpaper.

Sliding Window Removable For Easy Cleaning

UNTIL someone invents a window pane that stays clean without washing, window manufacturers are concentrating their attention on making their products easier for the housewife to clean.

Many wood windows now are made with sash that slip easily out of the frame so they can be washed easily and conveniently inside the room. The latest is the sliding window, the kind which slides from side to side instead of up and down. The sash lifts right out with a slight pressure applied at the top.

The sliding units are made of ponderosa pine, in various shapes and sizes to meet the needs of different rooms.

High In Walls

For example, horizontal rows of sliding windows are installed high in the walls of bedrooms and small living rooms to allow more wall space for placement of furniture. Groups of tall sliding units, reaching almost from floor to ceiling, are popular for enclosed porches and living rooms when a good view and plenty of light are desired.

An in-between size, square or nearly square in shape, is often installed singly or in groups above kitchen sinks. Windows over a sink are usually at arm's length from the housewife, but the sideward sliding action makes them easy to open and close. The removable sash feature makes it possible to wash them without going outside and perching on a ladder.

The jack rabbit of the western plains in the United States is really a large hare while the Belgian hare is a rabbit.

Wax Used Alone Enriches Floors

MANY experts believe that a wood floor that has been treated with nothing but wax is the most beautiful floor of all.

The common method is to apply a sealer to a new or sanded wood floor and then apply wax, but the patient home owner who buffs a solvent type of wax into the "raw" wood without using a sealer will in time develop a rich luster in the grain that will be a joy to see.

Some of the most beautiful floors in the world are to be found in century-old castles and churches in Europe which have been enriched with countless waxings, usually applied by servants who skated around the floors with rags tied to their feet. There being no sealer to act as inter-layer between the wax and the wood, the wax impregnated the wood and grew old and lustrous with the grain.

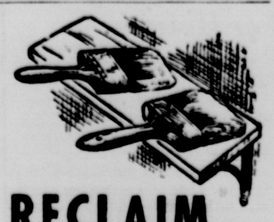

Advertise in The Daily Record.

For Oil Finish

FOR AN oil finish for woodwork, use one part turpentine and three parts raw linseed oil. Apply with brush and allow liquid to remain for about 15 minutes. Wipe off excess and allow to dry. Apply about three coats in this method. When final coat is dry, wax.

Fitting Linoleum

WHEN fitting linoleum around the legs of radiators and similar heavy objects, it's better to cut the linoleum out to fit around the legs rather than allow the legs to rest on the linoleum.

S. S. Checks Go To 2,050 In County

DURING December 1955, approximately 2,050 persons in Monroe County received benefit under the federal old-age and survivors insurance provisions of the Social Security Act, Miss Marie T. Miller, of the Easton social security office reported yesterday. These benefits are payable because these persons had protection under the social security law.

This protection has now been extended to farm operators who may qualify for benefits as early as the middle of 1956, depending on their age and type of crop produced.

Thus Monroe County's self-employed farm operators (including share-croppers) may find themselves qualifying for retirement benefits under this program when they reach 65. Should they die insured under the program, their survivors may also qualify for benefits. The year 1955 is the first time that earnings from operating a farm can be reported for this protection, Miss Miller added.

Farmers Eligible

Farmers who have net earnings of $400 or more from their 1955 farming operations should write the District Director of Internal Revenue, Scranton, for the proper tax return forms if they have not filed income tax returns in past years.

Requests for information regarding tax return forms and taxes due should be directed to the District Director of Internal Revenue, Scranton. Questions concerning the benefits payable under social security should be directed to the social security office at Easton, or to the social security representative, who is on duty in the Borough Hall, Stroudsburg, every Thursday, starting at 10:30 a.m.

Rabbi Leonard W. Stern

Rabbi Stern To Speak At College

RABBI LEONARD W. Stern of Temple Beth Israel, Hazleton, will lecture Thursday at 10 a.m. at State Teachers College.

Rabbi Stern will be heard in regular convocation at the college auditorium. He is a member of the ministerial association, the B'nai B'rith Association, Jewish Community Fund and the Kiwanis Club in Hazleton.

He is a graduate of Brooklyn College in New York and was ordained a rabbi at the Jewish Institute of Religion-Hebrew Union College in New York in 1954, receiving the Master of Hebrew Letters Degree.

Lancaster Cattle

LANCASTER, Feb. 21 (AP)—Cattle 700, around five loads of slaughter steers held from Monday. Demand very narrow, mostly steady prices. Calves 25, vealers slow, a few heads sold mostly steady. Hogs 50, only a few heads of special arrivals, barrows and gilts about steady with Monday, sows scarce. Nothing on sheep.

Miss Stark At U. N. Institute

MISS LILLIAN R. Stark, head of the Social Studies Department of Stroudsburg High School, spent several days attending the tenth United Nations Institute held at the United Nations under the sponsorship of New York University.

Among the subjects discussed was the famous Arab-Israeli dispute. Mordecai R. Kidron, deputy representative of Israel in the United Nations, presented the Israeli side of the dispute in a long series of facts, figures, and incidents. Later, Rafik Asha, envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary premanent representative of Syria to the UN, set forth the Arab side of the question and particularly the problems of Syria. He too, had documentary proof of all that he said including many facts not brought out in the newspapers.

H. E. Sudjaro Tjondronnegoro, ambassador and minister of Indonesia, spoke on the significance of the Bandung Conference held last April and attended by representatives of all the free nations of Africa and Asia with the exception of South Africa. The political, cultural, and economic magnitude of the conference was stressed, and particularly the fact that most of the nations represented were comparatively new as independent nations but were unanimous in demanding independence for all colonial territories in the near future.

Russians Speak

One of the most interesting experiences was that of hearing G. F. Saksin, envoy and minister, senior adviser on economic and social affairs, Permanent Delegation of the USSR to the United Nations, speak on "The Policies of the USSR in the United Nations." Mr. Saksin was supported by N. M. Levchenko, attache to the USSR's Permanent Delegation. (This was the only case in which two representatives had to appear together).

Mr. Saksin declared that his government is working wholeheartedly for world peace through the UN; that it believes in universal membership of all sovereign states in the UN; that failure to get the big powers to disarm is entirely the fault of the United States government; and that the USSR definitely believes in coexistence. His speech was followed by a question and answer period during which his ability to answer questions without committing himself truly demonstrated what is known as "Russian double talk."

Other United Nations delegates heard were: Dr. R. A. Mackay, ambassador and representative of Canada to the UN, who spoke on "The Roles of the Commonwealth Nations in the United Nations"; Dr. Francisco Urrutia, ambassador and representative of Columbia to the UN, who spoke on the economic problems of the Latin American countries; and Dr. E. R. Walker, ambassador and plenipotentiary from Australia to Japan, who spoke on the need of education teaching world realities and world peace.

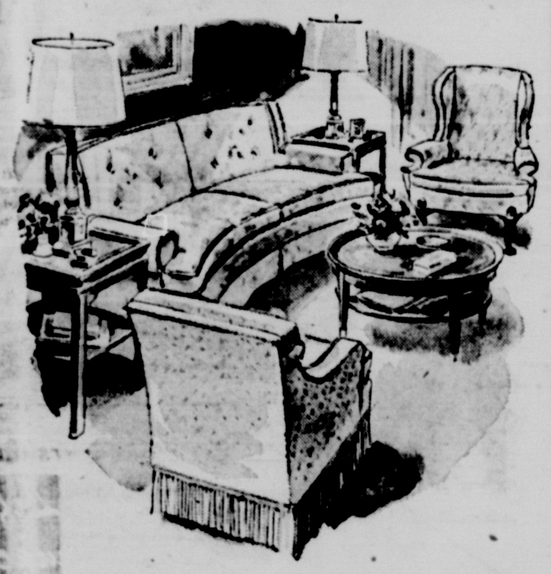

Several members of the secretariat were heard on various specialized agencies.

23 Witnesses Favor Bill Restricting Liquor Ads

By Harold N. MacMurray
Mountainhome Methodist Church

IN A PRESS RELEASE from Washington, date-lined Feb. 16, Randolph W. Childs, executive secretary of Pennsylvania Beverage Study, Inc., quoted from his testimony before the Senate Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, in hearings on the Langer Bill, to prohibit transportation in interstate commerce of advertisements of alcoholic beverages.

Mr. Childs opposed the bill, and was joined by ten others. Twenty-three witnesses took the opposite position, and favored the bill. Included in the group favoring its enactment, were Kenneth Hayes, managing editor, "The Christian Herald;" Mrs. Augusta Christie, a member of the legislature of the state of Maine; Dr. C. R. Hooton, executive secretary of the Methodist Board of Temperance; Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, director of the Department of Clinical Science, University of Illinois Medical School; Bishop Wilbur E. Hammaker; Mrs. Glenn C. Hayes, national president of the WCTU; Dr. W. R. White, president of Baylor University, Waco, Texas; Paul Bosley, national president, Methodist Youth Fellowship; Major Clinton R. Wallace, executive secretary, National Temperance League; and Edward B. Danford, nationally known attorney of Washington, D. C.

The hearing was held Feb. 15, and practically was duplicated on Feb. 16 by a hearing in the House on a similar bill, introduced into that body by Representative Siler of Kentucky.

Disputes Four Points

The claims contained in Mr. Childs' testimony were directly disputed by the testimony of those who favored the bill. A summing up of the favorable testimony shows that Mr. Childs' statements present an unfair picture of the testimony in the record of the committee on at least four points:

1. The claim that ideas would be controlled, freedom of the press restricted, and the free flow of thought and opinion among people regulated. Advertising copy is not in any of the classes named. The press, itself, has in many instances throughout its history placed restrictions on the matter inserted in its advertising columns. If advertising copy were the same as other copy submitted, of necessity it would be printed without cost. It is not news; rather, it is designed for the benefit of a specific person or group. Paid advertising is not "free speech," and regulation would not restrict the free expression of any thought or idea.

2. A claim that bootlegging would follow the enactment of this proposed law. Nothing submitted in testimony before the committee supported this claim. An examination of the nature of bootlegging shows it would have no identification with the passage of this legislation. Bootlegging is an illegal business, having two distinct classes of operation. One is the small operator, making and selling to a limited number of customers. This type of operator is not hard to control where there is sincere law enforcement.

The second type is the large-scale commercial operator, with expensive equipment and a plant capable of producing in quantity. Such plants must have large outlets, through retail stores, taverns and similar establishments; the volume is such they could not profitably peddle it to individual customers. If the retail liquor dealers properly police their own business, large scale bootlegging would cease.

Quotes Statistics

Any implication that the passage of this bill would permit bootleggers to surplant a large part of the legally manufactured product of the beverage alcohol industry is also without basis. For the year 1954 according to statistics from the Department of Commerce and from the official publications of the distillers, vintners and brewers, the total output was: Hard liquor, 189,450,000 gallons; wine, 141,780,000 gallons and beer 2,553,730,000 gallons. On the face of it, the clandestine operations of bootleggers could not run into hundreds of millions of gallons.

3. Quoting directly from Mr. Childs' report: "the unfortunate few who are alcoholics". A generally accepted definition of an alcoholic is a person who cannot control his craving for alcoholic beverages, and whose drinking pattern produces difficulties in his home, his business life and his social relations. One of the best informed men on this subject is Dr. E. M. Jellinek, one of the founders of the Yale School of Alcoholic Studies. In 1940, Dr. Jellinek estimated the number of persons in this category at 2,400,000. In 1945 his estimate increased to 3,750,000; in 1949 to almost 5,000,000; and, in an address in 1952 at Seattle, Wash., he said "I would not argue with you if you said there were 7,000,000 alcoholic and problem drinkers in the United States." With this constant growth, which many competent observers believe will reach 10,000,000 in the next year or so, the word "few" is hardly the correct one.

4. Continued references in Mr. Childs' testimony to the possibility of the return of prohibition, describe this as something "which could again enslave the great majority of the American people to the will of an intolerant and even fanatical minority."

Prohibition, Repeal

Those who know the history of the institution of prohibition by the 18th Amendment, and its repeal by the 21st Amendment, know that this is a distorted picture. Prohibition came about because of the flagrant violations of law and decency by the sellers of liquor. Repeal came when the organized liquor interests promised these violations could not come again; in the millions of dollars' worth of advertising appearing in their behalf from 1926 to 1932, it was stressed by the leaders of the liquor industry that these conditions would be forbidden by the industry itself if permitted to again sell liquor. In Senate and House committee hearings on the proposed 21st Amendment, in 1932, this was repeated time and time again by those who represented the liquor interests. Prohibition's return will not be brought about by fanatics, but by the liquor industry's lack of concern for standards of decency and law.

There also was included, in the testimony submitted by those favoring the Langer and Siler bills, reference to the report of the FBI on crime in the United States in the calendar year 1954. Out of a total of 2,776,389 offenses listed by the FBI, 1,191,785 or 43% were for drunkenness. An additional 501,051 offenses, or 19% of the total, were for one of the three following categories: liquor law violations, State and local; driving while intoxicated; or disorderly conduct in which the use of liquor was a factor. In other words, the evidence of the FBI report is that 63%, almost two-thirds, of the offenses committed in the course of the year, were due to liquor. The opinion of those who testified in favor of the Langer and Siler bills was that any business which provided such a large demand for law enforcement should not be helped by advertising unrestrictedly to increase its business.

State Supply Of Seedlings Is Exhausted

E. CLYDE Pyle, district forester, reported yesterday that the supply of state tree seedlings made available for shipment in the Spring has been exhausted.

The district office, located at 1081 W. Main St., Stroudsburg, said Monroe County planters ordered 99,500 tree seedlings, mostly conifers, 230 Chinese chestnuts and 10,000 shrubs.

Pike County planters ordered 13,500 tree seedlings, 125 chinese chestnut and 2,500 shrubs.

Northampton County planters ordered 34,500 tree seedlings, 300 chinese chestnut and 8,750 shrubs.

The majority of the planters from the three counties ordered coniferous species consisting mainly of pines, spruces and multiflora rose in the shrub selection, Pyle said.

During the Berlin blockade in 1949, the Allied air lift carried nearly 8,000 tons of supplies a day to the beleaguered city, says the National Geographic Society.

Enforcement Of Dog Laws Is Planned

MARCH 1 will be D-Day for all unlicensed dogs in Stroudsburg, according to James F. Hazen, state dog law officer.

Hazen said a drive will begin March 1 against all unlicensed dogs in the Borough of Stroudsburg.

"All dog laws will be strictly enforced," Hazen warned.

'Creepy-Peepy,' Battlefield TV Camera Developed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—The Army today took the wraps off its latest development for the battlefield—a television camera and a transmitter so light it can be carried by one man.

Nicknamed the "Creepy-Peepy," the portable camera weighs eight pounds and the transmitter, complete with built-in battery power supply, weighs 47. The Army said the equipment will produce an image "equal to or better than commercial quality" television.

The new equipment was developed by the Army Signal Corps engineering laboratories at Ft. Monmouth, N. J. It is being produced by the Radio Corporation of America for the Signal Corps.

The Army envisages the use of the "Creepy-Peepy" on the battlefield to reduce casualties among forward observers.

Just Between Us

—by Bobby Westbrook

I haven't made up my mind who is the more fortunate in the matte rof the obi — American women who don't have to wear them, or Japanese women who have time to fix them properly before venturing out.

The obi and its arrangement is one of the features of Mrs. Eaton's talk which has interested a lot of women lately, and most of them are quite happy that they don't have to do all the tying and puffing and winding and wrapping that goes with donning the Japanese sashes with their high-riding bustles.

However, it does sort of symbolize a simpler way of life. It may take a lot of time, but maybe that means the Japanese women have the time to take. They probably don't have the job of chauffeuring children, making committee meetings by the skin of their teeth, shopping in between fund-collecting for one project or another, and cooking, cleaning and washing dishes in between social activities of one kind or another.

We're so used to the mad scramble of doing the housework while the pin curls dry, letting the nail polish dry while we do our telephoning, and putting on our earrings while waiting for the traffic light to change, that putting on an obi, which demands both hands and your full attention, seems sort of impossible.

On the other hand, it might be sort of restful to be doing only one thing at a time, which is what you'd have to do with an obi.

The Wyckoff Shopper

Have you noticed what an important part the aqua and turquoise shades will play in the beautifying of spring and summer? Leaf through any fashion magazine and you'll see suits of these luscious shades, or accessories of turquoise, brightening dresses of sand tone and beige. And don't say you didn't know it was coming! This column reported the trend way-back-when our buyers were attending the pre-season fashion showings in New York... If you enjoy reading about people, buy a copy of McCall's magazine today, for the attractive, gilt-covered March issue contains the first installment of Wallis Warfield Simpson Windsor's autobiography. We all know how Britain felt about Wallis—now, in her side of the story, we can learn how the Duchess of Windsor feels about herself. Stopping by our merchandise office, I am offered a piece of toffee which comes, I am informed, in a beautiful tin canister. Why not drop into our candy department, and look over the fine selection of candies there? Elsie Miller, our buyer, is vacationing in Florida right this minute with husband, John, but business is going on as usual under the supervision of Alberta Yutz, Sonia Bachman, and Florence Metzgar . . . What about a part-time job? Having recently gone on a 40-hour week here at Wyckoff's, we need a greater number of extras on call than we previously required. So, if you are a housewife who'd like to earn pin money toward a new Easter bonnet or coats for the children, drop by and see us. We also have some regular part time positions (meaning specified hours each day of the entire week) open in draperies, housewares, and shoes. If you enjoy combining fabrics and transforming average rooms into things of beauty; if you like to dust, display and sell lamps, fine china, or the latest in kitchen gadgets; or if you wear them or see them on someone else, do come in. A sales job can be fun—particularly when it ties in with your own interests, and we need you!... Hannah Shupp tells me our gift department now has the answer to those customers who want a really BIG modern ash tray. It arrived in a shipment of exquisite Kenwood ware and has space around the edge to cradle almost a pack of cigarettes. Should it ever be used to its fullest capacity, the city fire department would undoubtedly be summoned by the neighbors. Incidentally, this pottery is in the same rich shade of turquoise we find so popular this year. . . . Walking into the payroll department, I find Margaret Hunter's small grandson typing away at a great rate. After watching him for a while, I'm still debating whether I'd fare better or worse if he made out my pay check next time... Amy Eilenberger descends on me with a can of Woolite cold water soap and the demand that I mention it in the column. Woolite, according to the information on the can, is used for wool socks, shirts, sweaters, knitted suits, afghans, b'ankets, and baby things, and is also superior for silk, nylon, orlon and other synthetics. Priced at 1.50, Woolite promises a reviving of color, whiter whites, no shrinking, no matting or blocking, and requires only one rinsing. Here's soaping you'll try it!

Company G Possesses Proud 43-Year Record

ON NOV. 18, 1913 Monroe County's Company G came officially into existence.

Since that day it has racked up a formidable record for courage and good training through service to the nation in three major wars.

Company G's story is one of bulldog determination—to form and train a company in the first place, then—once this was a reality—to keep it constantly on the alert, growing and better. Once or twice this pattern of progress has been altered by a war or loss of manpower—but the lag has never lasted long.

Dunning First Commander

The men in charge of the original Company G were Capt. George N. Dunning, 1st. Lt. C. B. Altemose and 2nd Lt. Giles Burlingame. The company went to its first Summer encampment at Selingsgrove in 1914. During the next two years, the camp was held at Mount Gretna.

G Company reached its first point of reasonable strength—187 men—in 1916 before Summer camp at Mount Gretna. On August 22 that year it got its first clear call to action—the company was sent to the Mexican border, on patrol. It spent the Winter there, returning to this State in April, 1917.

Back home the men were assigned to "bridge duty", for the Summer. They covered Bell's Bridge, North Water Gap, Slateford Bride, the Lehigh Valley Railroad bridge at Easton, the Jersey Central bridge at Easton and the Delaware and Hudson bridge, also at Easton.

On Aug. 1, Company G was ordered to report to Camp Hancock, Ga. for active duty. The company left Monroe County on Aug. 12. Capt. Dunning had been discharged, leaving the company under command of Lt. Burlingame. Capt. Altemose was recuperating from an appendectomy in the local hospital.

109th Formed

After three months in Georgia, the 13th Infantry and 1st Infantry were combined to form the 109th Infantry. Along with the other component units of the regiment, Company G sailed from Hoboken on May 3, 1918. The company landed in Liverpool, England; crossed that island to Dover and then was taken across the channel to Calais, France.

Here, in the heat and fury of World War One's closest combat, the company saw its first front line action in a full-scale war. On the front lines, G Company was assigned to support of the Second U.S. Marines and the French Blue Devils. Several of the company's men were wounded in subsequent actions at Chateau Thierry, the battle of the Aisne River, Rheims and the Musse Argonne.

At Varennes on Sept. 29, 1918, Company G lost one of its first hard-working, conscientious men. George N. Kemp had been the company's original first sergeant. At Augusta, Ga. he was given a field commission as a captain. His death under fire at Varennes identified him so closely with the company that, in later years, the men who had served with him honored his memory by naming the company's armory for him.

On May 3, 1919—a year to the day after it had left Hoboken for overseas duty—Company G landed at Philadelphia. It had 210 men on its rolls.

1,280 Replacements

During the time it had served in France, a total of 1,280 replacements had passed through Company G.

There is an old saying among Army men somewhat to the effect that once the war's over nobody wants the Army. Company G men had good reason to say nearly the same thing about the National Guard after World War One. Membership in the company sank low rapidly and it was deactivated.

But two years later it was back on the ball again, ready to go. Under the leadership of Capt. Chester H. Younkins, the company was reorganized. Eight years later—in 1929—the Armory was built in honor of Kemp.

After Capt. Younkins died in 1936, command of the company passed into the hands of Capt. Harry Serfass. Other officers were: 1st Lt. Emory Gordon and 2nd Lt. Stanley Hartman. From 1922 to 1929, the company attended Summer encampments at Mount Gretna. From 1930 to the present time, the Summer camps have been held at Indiantown Gap Military Reservation.

With World War One, Company G had begun a story of military service which ranked at the top of the solid reputation being built by National Guard companies the country over.

Second Call

The story was only beginning. Within three decades it was to answer a second call to duty in a global war. And less than a decade after that, there was to be a third.

In 1941, Company G was called back to active service by the Federal Government. World War Two was smoldering in the timber-boxes of Europe and the Pacific. The sound of gunfire was slowly drowning out the political oratory.

The peacetime citizens' army was about to be called again. And Company G was ready.

Dent Declares Jersey Protest 'In Poor Taste'

HARRISBURG, Feb. 21 (AP)—Sen. Dent, Democratic floor leader, said that a resolution passed by the New Jersey Legislature voicing opposition to any income tax that might be passed by the Pennsylvania General Assembly "comes in very poor taste."

"The question of the type taxes we pass in Pennsylvania is certainly none of their business," Dent said in a brief Senate speech.

The New Jersey resolution expressed concern over the plight of New Jersey residents working in Pennsylvania who would have to pay such a tax should it be passed by the Keystone State body.

"We don't complain when thousands of Pennsylvanians pay New Jersey taxes by virtue of attending their race tracks or by paying other New Jersey levies," said Dent.

East Stroudsburg Slaps Hellertown In Wild Finish, 64-63

Notz Saves Cavaliers From Collapse

A LOOPING one-handed shot, with 30 seconds remaining in the game, enabled East Stroudsburg High to squeeze out a thrilling 64-63 verdict over Hellertown in a Lehigh-Northampton Basketball League game played before a small crowd in the N. Courtland St. gymnasium last night.

Notz subbing for Dan Marvin, who fouled out of the game, saved the Cavaliers from a fatal slump during the last eight minutes of play, during which time they scored only seven points. Hellertown picked up 16 markers during the last quarter.

East Stroudsburg led by as many as 14 points in the third quarter, but a stubborn Hellertown contingent kept eating away at the home team's advantage and trailed 57-53 midway in the final round.

Ed Schrader's brilliant offensive display and the fine long set shots by Joe McGoldrick and Bob Volko kept the surging Hellertown contingent in the middle of the battle, respite a brief flurry by the Cavaliers which upped the home team's advantage to 61-54.

Two field goals by the outstanding King Beers, who thrilled the crowd with 29 points, and a foul shot by Marvin came within a period of 30 seconds and saved the day for the slumping Cavaliers.

Hellertown struck back again, after Marvin departed via the five-foul route, and a pair of foul shots by Tom Bogart put the red and black color bearers into a 64-63 advantage, with 40 seconds remaining to be played.

East Stroudsburg brought the ball down court and just when the home crowd was about to give up the ship, Dick Gray passed to Notz in the corner and the lanky junior let go a looping one-hander that dropped directly into the cords amidst an outburst of approval from the host fans.

Volko missed a foul shot with 15 seconds remaining in the game and East Stroudsburg killed the clock with a neat bit of passing. The Cavaliers were charged with a walking violation, but Hellertown was unable to get the ball in play before the final buzzer sounded.

Beers, who threatened the East Stroudsburg record of 36 points scored by Bill Pensyl last season throughout the game, was the victim of three "in-and-out" shots in the last quarter and finished with an output of 29 markers to pace his mates to victory once again. The junior sharp-shooter finished with 11 field goals and a seven-for-eight performance from the foul line. Gray, who connected on five of seven shots, was number two scorer in a winning cause with 10 markers.

Schrader, who paced Hellertown with 24 markers, put on a brilliant foul shooting performance by making good on 14 of 14 charity tosses.

East Stroudsburg ran up a 27-20 advantage in field goals, but Hellertown connected on 23 of 30 free throws. The Cavaliers made good on 10 of 17 foul shots.

The win was the fourth in six second half outings for the Cavaliers, who now have won 13 and lost six against all opposition this season. Hellertown's second half record is now two wins and five defeats. Hellertown is one of the six teams to defeat the Cavaliers this season.

Hellertown gained a measure of revenge with a 49-37 verdict over the East Stroudsburg junior varsity in the preliminary tussle, despite 25 points by the home team's Jim Kindrew.

Mountaineers Miss With Late Rally

CATASAUQUA — A vastly improved Stroudsburg High basketball team just missed registering its third straight Lehigh Valley League victory of the campaign last night when Catasauqua rallied in the fading moments of the game to turn in an exciting 63-61 decision over the Mountaineers, here in the winning team's field house.

Stroudsburg jumped off to a quick 8-4 lead, but Catasauqua led most of the way until the Mountaineers drove into a 51-51 tie with four minutes remaining in the game. Doug Shook, who gave another outstanding performance, deadlocked the count with a pair of foul shots.

The two arch rivals matched point for point the rest of the way, but with one minute and 20 seconds remaining in the game George James dropped two charity tosses into the nets for the victory margin.

Stroudsburg tried desperately to continue its outstanding comeback, but Shook and Don "Uckie" Setzer missed field goal attempts and Tom Savidge failed to convert two foul shots and a toss from the field bounced off the rim during the last two minutes.

Shook and Savidge, with 26 and 20 points respectively, led the Stroudsburg surge that just missed setting a new high in consecutive victories for the Mountainers this season.

Francis "Sonny" Dieber fouled out of the game in the last quarter, but still the charges of Coach John Kupice tried to save the day. Savidge scored seven of his 20 points in the final period, while Don Hickey hit for six and Setzer for four. Shook tallied 19 of his 29 points in the first half.

Stroudsburg featured deliberate and slow basketball, forcing the Rough Riders to play the visiting team's game most of the distance.

Both teams made good on 25 shots from the field, but Catty took two more foul shots and clicked on both to gain the decision. The Mountaineers converted 11 of 19 free throws, while Catty connected on 13 of 21 charity tosses.

Dick Petro led the Catasauqua attack with 24 points, while James added 15.

The loss was the 15th in 19 games for the Mountaineers and made their second half slate read two victories and five reversals.

Catasauqua also won the junior varsity contest, 61-48.

Unrelated Markers On Way To Scoring Marks In Pennsylvania State Teachers Conference

JOHNSTOWN, Feb. 21—Those Parker boys—John of Millersville and Jim of Cheyney—who are not related are about to set scoring records in the Pennsylvania State Teachers Colleges Basketball Conference.

John Parker already has broken his school's season's scoring record and he is past the pace set by Roger Cocivera of Kutztown. John has tallied a total of 424 points in all games thus far, bettering Bill Werkiser's record of 391 set last season at Millersville. In league action he has tallied 255 points and needs only 16 more to better the Cocivera record of 270 points.

Jim Parker of Cheyney returned to action after a first semester absence and is setting a torrid high average pace of 32 points per game. Parker was elegible the first semester under conference ligibility rules but he was not eligibile under Cheyney's strict quality-points ruling. Big Jim led the conference as high average scorer for the past two seasons.

Jack Crossan of Indiana is close at John Parker's heels and may better the Millersville scorer to establish a new league record. Crossan has tallied 254 points—one point less than John Parker—and needs 17 points in two remaining league games to better the Cocivera mark.

Last week was a record-breaking one in league action. Crossan equalled the high single game totals of 42 points, sharing honors now with Clyde West of Cheyney, George Dintiman of Lock Haven, Frank McClelland of Shippensburg and Jim Kennedy of California. Neil Kemp of Lock Haven tallied 33 points against Shippensburg to set new Thomas Field House mark at Lock Haven.

ESSTC Surprises Lock Haven, 84-80

LOCK HAVEN — East Stroudsburg State Teachers College displayed ts best basketball of the current campaign last night and rocked a powerful Lock Haven contingent into an 84-80 defeat in a State Teachers College Conference game played before a large crowd here at Thomas Field House.

Dave "Kelly" McLaughlin, the fair-haired center from Normal Hill, wrote his name into the record books with 39 points, as he sank 15 field goals and found the range on nine of 11 foul shots. McLaughlin's point total set a new court record and brought his season mark to 397 in 14 games, or an average of 28.4 markers a game.

Even with McLaughlin's brilliant performance, one of ESSTC's greatest victories in history was strictly a team effort, with four men carrying all of the scoring load.

Big Four

Charley German, finishing like an All-American, Wilmont Smith, shooting like a pro, and Walt "Moose" Bjorn, living up to every promise he made last season, combined to snap Lock Haven's win streak at four straight and deal the Bald Eagles their second setback in the last seven games.

The win was the fifth of the season for the Warriors and it marked the first time that they have been able to place victories back to back in the present campaign. The charges of Coach Jerry Palaia have lost nine games.

ESSTC, with the four scorers in fine form and Guy "Cub" Possinger shining like a bright star on defense, jumped off to a 20-16 lead after 10 minutes and into a 43-36 lead at the halfway mark.

The Warriors led by five and seven points most of the way through the third quarter, but the Eagles surged in the late seconds and cut the visiting squad's lead to 62-60 entering the last 10 minutes of action.

Lock Haven, riding the scoring ability of Don Albright, Gerald Terrette and Tony Martynuska, moved into a 70-70 deadlock and then a 74-72 lead. But, Bjorn came up with two foul shots to even matters at 74-all and German clicked for four field goals, but Lock Haven refused to be shaken. German's sprint put the Warriors in front 82-78.

Albright hit with a long set shot with five seconds remaining, but Smith took a long pass from McLaughlin and scored at the final buzzer to give the Warriors a four-point victory.

Hot Hands t

The Warriors connected on 48 per cent of their shots from the times as German and Smith scored 17 points each and Bjorn finished with 11.

Bjorn, who entered the game after seven minutes had been played, grabbed off 16 rebounds, picked 14 and 13 balls off the backboards respectively.

German accounted for eight of his 17 points in the last quarter, while McLaughlin had the crowd in an uproar in the first half when he ran up 29 points. Bjorn hit for five of his 11 points on six trips to the foul line.

Lock Haven actually held a 36-33 edge in the field goal department, but the Warriors found the range on 18 of 28 free throws, while Lock Haven made good on eight of 16 victory tosses.

Albright paced the Bald Eagles with 22 points, while Neil Kemp, Martynuska and Terrette each accounted for 16.

ESSTC returns to action on Saturday night against the colorful Cheyney quintet, on the Normal Hill hardwood.

Bangor Sets Record While Beating Coplay

BANGOR—Bangor High set a school basketball scoring record last night by dealing an 83-70 setback to Coplay in a Lehigh-Northampton League contest here on the winning club's home court.

The 83 points were the most ever scored by a Bangor team in a single game and eclipsed the former mark set on February 17, 1953, when Bangor defeated Wilson, 82-77.

Don Keat and "Jabby" Williams combined to lead Bangor to victory with 26 points each.

Williams was red hot in the first half with 18 counters. He picked up 12 in the first quarter, six in the second, six in the third and two in the final round.

Keat tallied three in the first quarter, 10 in the second, nine in the third and four in the final stanza.

Big Lead

Williams hit for three field goals and Keat and Dale Miller one each as Bangor jumped off to a 10-0 lead and was never headed.

Bangor, using its second team, broke the record right at the final buzzer when Glen Heard got off a twisting jump shot that found the range.

Both teams picked up 30 field goals, but Bangor continued its outstanding foul shooting with a 23-for-33 performance. Coplay made good on 10 of 20 free throws.

Bangor lost a 14-point lead and Coplay rallied to win the junior varsity contest, 59-57.

BUSHKILL made the Pocono Mountains Baseball League very happy on Monday night during the February meeting of the circuit at Stroud Manor in Analomink. The team that many thought might drop out of the league this season, handed over its entrance fee of $25 and also settled its debt to the league of $77.24. This leaves Moorestown as the only club owing money to the circuit. A decision on distribution of the treasury will be made at the next meeting.

Ben Jones, a native of Stroudsburg, has decided to remain at Lehighton High, even though he had been officially named head grid mentor at Schuylkill Haven. Ben, who is a graduate of both Stroudsburg High and East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, is head track and basketball coach and assistant grid mentor at Lehighton. The school board has also requested that he launch a Knee High football program in Lehighton.

Mike Evans, basketball coach at East Stroudsburg Junior High, was in an automobile accident outside of Wilkes-Barre Monday morning, but escaped injury. Harry Warner and John Zawatsky were missing from the Al Besecker's Diner lineup against Rudy's Tavern in a Pocono Mountains Basketball League game on Monday night. Harry has a boil on his arm and Zawatsky is having trouble with a sprained ankle.

Guy "Cub" Possinger, a member of the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College basketball squad, suffered a sprained thumb off campus last Sunday. The ESSTC cage machine has been swept by a wave of injuries the past week. Al Besecker's Diner decided to withdraw its protest against the use of an ineligible player by Rudy's Tavern when it was learned that none of the teams had a copy of the Pocono Mountains Basketball League by-laws and that the entire incident was one of misunderstanding.

It was mentioned in this column a short time ago that Dick Campeotto, Kutztown State Teachers College football center, had received honorable mention on the Williamson Little All-America Football Team for 1955. It has been further learned that Dick, former grid star at Stroudsburg High, was only one of 288 football players so honored in the nation. Others known locally include Joe Chilbert, West Chester; Don Persiponko, Shippensburg, and Tony Fizzano, Millersville. Campeotto is currently awaiting induction into the Army.

When Andy Leh resigned as head football coach at Nazareth High recently, after 30 years at the helm, he took with him a record of 160 wins, 73 defeats and 18 ties. He bossed undefeated squads in 1935, 1950 and 1951. During a period from 1949 through 1951, the Blue Eagles won 25 straight games. The Lehigh-Northampton Football League was formed in 1935 and Nazareth has won the championship in 1938, 1942, 1944, 1950, 1951 and 1955.

Leh and company were co-champions in 1935, 1936, 1941 and 1953. Reports making the rounds indicate that nobody on the current coaching staff will be named head grid mentor at the school for next season. Andy is scheduled to remain active as baseball coach and as a teacher. Oscar J. Liljenstein, athletic director at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, is on the mend after a bout with the virus last week.

Evan Reese, injured football player from East Stroudsburg High School, had another checkup at the University of Pennsylvania Hospital last Friday. Pope Pius High, Roseto, cancelled its final three basketball games because of the low scholastic standing of three players. Look for Al Besecker's Diner to enter the Varsity "S" Invitation Basketball Tournament within a day or two.

The 38 points scored by Milford's Terry Doyle against Greene - Dreher - Sterling last Friday not only was a Milford school record, but it was a scholastic mark for the Newfoundland court. Dick Osborne had scored 32 points against Pocono on December 20, 1950; Jerry Moran, Moscow, picked up 33 on February 7, 1951, and Charley Decker, Waymart, scored 35 points in his final appearance on the Newfoundland court February 10, 1951. Dick Osborne, former Greene-Dreher-Sterling High star, officiated Friday's game. Julius Prezelski, Milford mentor, coached both Decker and Doyle, two of the highest scoring scholastic cagers to ever appear in the region.

Work Trickle Resumes At Republic

FARMINGDALE, N. Y., Feb. 21 (AP)—Limited production was resumed at Republic Aviation Corp. today after an unusual rail lift thwarted an angry line of strike pickets.

More than 600 nonstrikers got into the firm's main plant here via Long Island Rail Road trains that make a station stop inside plant property. Republic had suggested the maneuver.

About 100 pickets surged toward the trains beseeching the non strikers not to go to work. Their spokesman claimed a number heeded the plea.

A Republic spokesman said a trickle of production was resumed for the first time since the International Assn. of Machinists called a wage strike of 12,000 production workers Sunday.

Republic has a backlog of half a billion dollars in government guided missile and jet plane orders. No planes were coming off the production line. But planes completed before the strike were being test flown and six of them have been turned over to the Air Force thus far in the strike.

There was renewed fist fighting and scuffling here and at another of Republic's four Long Island plants in Port Washington. Several persons were bruised or bloodied and one picket was hospitalized as some 200 pickets clashed with nonstrikers and police.

No Change In Westinghouse Deadlock

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP) — Westinghouse strike negotiations remained deadlocked today. Special mediators assigned to the case said "we're exploring all possibilities" to settle the 128-day walkout.

David L. Cole and George W. Taylor, two private labor relations experts called in by the government on the case, spent a full day of closed door separate meetings with representatives of the company and the striking International Union of Electrical Workers.

"There is really nothing we can say at this point," Taylor said. "We're exploring all the possibilities."

They arranged to confer again tomorrow with the IUE, with Westinghouse negotiators standing by ready to be called in.

Meanwhile, a group of members of the House of Representatives from states saving struck Westinghouse plants sent a message to the Federal Mediation Service urging "around-the-clock continuing talks" to achieve an agreement.

Deeply Concerned

"All of us are deeply concerned with the economic effects of this strike on the company, the employes and our communities," their statement said.

In a sideline development, the United States Chamber of Commerce said "a dangerous precedent has been set by the payment of unemployment compensation to 23,000 Westinghouse . . . strikers in Pennsylvania."

William B. Barton, general counsel for the chamber, said John R. Torquato, Pennsylvania state labor secretary, classified the situation as a "lockout" in order to clear the way for jobless compensation benefits.

"Even officials of the striking unions have not had the temerity to call the present labor dispute a 'lockout'," Barton said in a statement.

County Housing Authority To Appoint Executive Head

APPOINTMENT OF AN executive director is expected to be considered by the Monroe County Housing Authority when it meets at 4 p. m. today at the courthouse.

Rev. Roger C. Stimson, authority chairman, said his group will also consider appointment of an architect to make initial plans for the 100 low-rent, subsidized housing units approved for the twin boroughs and Stroud Township by the Public Housing Administration.

Meanwhile, the authority chairman invited persons interested in the post of executive director to contact him before this afternoon's meeting.

Held by Stoner

The position originally was held by J. H. Stoner, who resigned to take an executive post in a Carlisle industrial plant.

Last night, Mr. Stimson spoke at a dinner meeting of the Master Builders Association of Monroe County, held at Altier's Inn.

Mr. Stimson explained that the subsidized housing units will be open to low-income families unable to buy their own homes.

Meanwhile, he continued, a private firm, the Monroe Land and Building Co., is promoting construction of several homes in the $7,000 to $9,000 which will be sold to middle income families on long-term FHA-insured loans.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your future. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your keynumber. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 22

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Two of our most helpful planets are in fine aspects today. And a most significant day it is, the birthday of Geo. Washington! Aim to emulate some of his qualities.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—Jupiter and Mercury well aspected suggest bright ideas, monetary returns, sound investments, astute manufacturing, handling items pertinent to today.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—Encouraging day for your especial talents and likes. Plans for interesting stunts, entertainment—also organizing groups for civic, community, religious affairs—favored.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Your day can be profitable, pleasant, highlighted by children's interests. Authors, journalists, study, research among first sponsored. Selfishness, moodiness tabu say Moon's rays.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Mild indications (your Sun) but day friendly on whole; a thoughtfully planned program should proceed smoothly, satisfactorily. No time for extremes.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—Advice to Gemini obtains here now. Opportune period to do some writing, catch up with correspondence and give a hobby or neglected talent fresh attention.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Some restrictions noted from your Venus aspect—no extremes or indulging unwisely rich foods, beverages. Be sensible in all and you can have a happy day.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—On a stirring holiday like this you active folks are likely to overdo in desire to entertain or please. Though day is favorable on whole, take things sensibly quietly for better health.

November 23 to December 21 (Sagittarius)—Jupiter in excellent position augurs for happy returns from good efforts. Necessary work, useful social affairs, home interests under generous rays.

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn)—Sandwiched in between a restricting day yesterday and an oncoming favorably aspected one tomorrow, today should be wisely handled, no overdoing.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius)—Important to keep up with urgent matters but you should have some free time, too. Think deeply about our first President and all the blessings we in free lands now enjoy.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces)—Give the day and your affairs your kind understanding touch and (presto!) All will be better. Necessary tasks, even some added duties and healthy recreation are sponsored.

YOU BORN TODAY are cautious, usually work in a quiet way. May be interested in science, art, humanity's problems. Yet at some times need to be prodded into proper ambitious state for a tendency to take things easy may lead to the wrong ways. You have fine talent and should find your career, profession or trade early and work at it faithfully. You can achieve worthy goals, can be an inspiration to others. Birthdate: Geo Washington, 1st U. S. Pres.; Chopin famed composer-pianist; Jas. Russell, author, diplomat; Rob't. Young, actor.

Captains Listed For 'Heart Monday'

NEXT MONDAY, Feb. 27, will be "Heart Monday" in Monroe County.

This is the day when women workers will knock on doors asking county residents to give to the Heart Fund. Money received in the drive is used to finance the work of the Monroe County Heart Committee in the field of education and to provide funds for State and national research into the causes and possible cures of heart ailments.

Mrs. Roy Peterson, serving as head of the Heart Fund drive for Stroudsburg Woman's Club last night announced the list of women who will serve as regional captains for the Monday solicitation.

Names on the list issued by Mrs. Peterson include these:

Stroudsburg — Mrs. Elwood Hintze, chairman; Mrs. T. Manning Curtis, Mrs. Theodore Price, Mrs. Robert Miller, Mrs. Edward Williams, Mrs. Howard Flagler Sr. and Mrs. Robert Schell.

East Stroudsburg — Mrs. William A. Hannas, chairman; Mrs. N. Kenneth Eshbach, Mrs. Andrew Ferris, Mrs. Henry Peters, Mrs. David Hecht, Mrs. George Marsh.

Pocono, Paradise and Jackson Townships—Mrs. Fred C. Kresge Sr., chairman; Mrs. Helen Rubino, Mrs. Francis Mooney, Mrs. Howard Post, Mrs. Dayton Frantz, Mrs. Alvin Niering, Mrs. Marilyn Kresge, Mrs. Robert Beehler, Mrs. Francis Elliott, Mrs. Richard Post, Mrs. Edward Horn Jr., Mrs. John Ruehlman, Mrs. Elmer Mader, Mrs. Charles DePue, Mrs. Alice Hamblin, and Mrs. Harry Niering.

N. Fifth St. and Stokes Mill sections — Mrs. Walter Weber; Arlington Heights and Chipperfield Drive — Mrs. George J. Straka; Lackawanna Trail—Mrs. Clyde White; Marshalls Creek—Mrs. Harvey Huffman; Route 402—Mrs. Thedore Hoffman; Bushkill—Mrs. Boyd Weiss Jr. and Mrs. John Shinn; Shawnee—Mrs. G. Willard Stetler.

Minisink Hills — Mrs. Eugene Emmerich; Delaware Water Gap — Mrs. Harold Carlton and Mrs. Christie Shull; Mount Pocono — Mrs. Charles Whitlow.

Cherry Valley — Mrs. Paul Albert; Bartonsville — Mrs. A. B. Weingartner; West End Section—the Progressive Women's Club of Saylorsburg, under the direction of Mrs. Harry Weiss; Pocono Summit, Pocono Pines and Pocono Lake—Mrs. W. Walker Seeley.

Long-Range Relocation Plan Announced For U.S. Route 611

adelphia and Scranton areas who use the Pocono Mountains resorts, keeping in mind that the tourist and resort industry is most important in Monroe, Pike and Wayne counties.

3. To insure rapid vehicular transit between major Eastern cities and Tobyhanna Signal Depot and as an aid to the national military and Civil Defense.

Project Essential

Wiesenberger said the Stroudsburgs' thru-way project is essential because it will connect the 611 project with Route 46 in New Jersey—thus providing direct links to metropolitan areas of New York and major New Jersey points.

By moving the line of Route 611 west of Bangor and Pen Argyl, the deputy highways secretary said Route 611 will be shortened by eight to ten miles, eliminating a big bend of the Delaware at Portland and Delaware Water Gap.

One of the prime phases of the project, Wiesenberger said, will be widening of Route 611 via the Stroudsburgs thru-way to four lanes all the way to Scranton.

GE Net Up One Percent

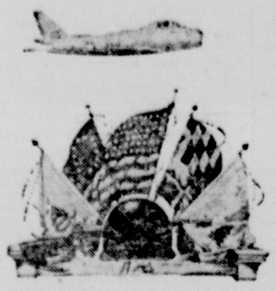

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP) — General Electric Co. reported today that its net income for 1955 totaled a record $200,923,835, equal to $2.32 common share, an increase of one per cent over 1954 earnings of $198,913,221, or $2.30 a share, the previous high. Sales for 1955 totaled $3,095,352,063, a five per cent increase over 1954 sales of $2,959,077,548, but not quite up to the record 1953 sales of $3,128,000,000.

Long Hair Not Needed

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 21 (AP) —The popular definition of a "long hair" musician took a setback here last night.

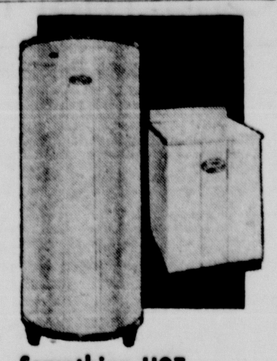

Dave Brubeck, a leader in the field of progressive jazz, presented a concert in the Rhode Island school of design museum, wearing his hair as long as any musician ever does; and that is long, man!

Five blocks away in the Veterans Memorial Auditorium, Jascha Heifetz, eminent violinist, played a classical program, sporting a close crew cut. And for one encore, he played, "It Aint Necessarily So."
